Tips

- Travel guide (mobile payment, online taxi/car hailing apps, subway, bus etc.): english.visitbeijing.com.cn
- Both US type and European type (but without ground connection) work in China. Voltage is always 220 V, so US devices need to support 220 V (not 110 V). If your electronic devices are designed for a different voltage, it is crucial to carry a voltage converter or transformer to ensure compatibility.
- To hail a legitimate taxi in Beijing, look for the official yellow taxis with a clear company logo and a lit "Taxi" sign on the roof.
- Better to take some RMB cash and changes if you cannot use mobile payment in China.
- Google map cannot work in China, you can download Gaode or Baidu Map. Apple map works.
