Excursion (Sunday, 13 sept.)

Option A: Forbidden City

• The Forbidden City, a 600-year-old imperial palace in Beijing, is the world's largest wooden complex. With 9,999 rooms, it housed Ming and Qing emperors. Now a museum, it showcases ancient Chinese art, architecture, and history, attracting millions annually with its iconic red walls and golden roofs.

• 50mins from IHEP by bus.

• Please note that the Forbidden City currently operates on a reservation system. If you choose the Forbidden City as a sightseeing spot, the reservation is made no later than 10days. Please send the front page of your passport to dujie@ihep.ac.cn. Thank you

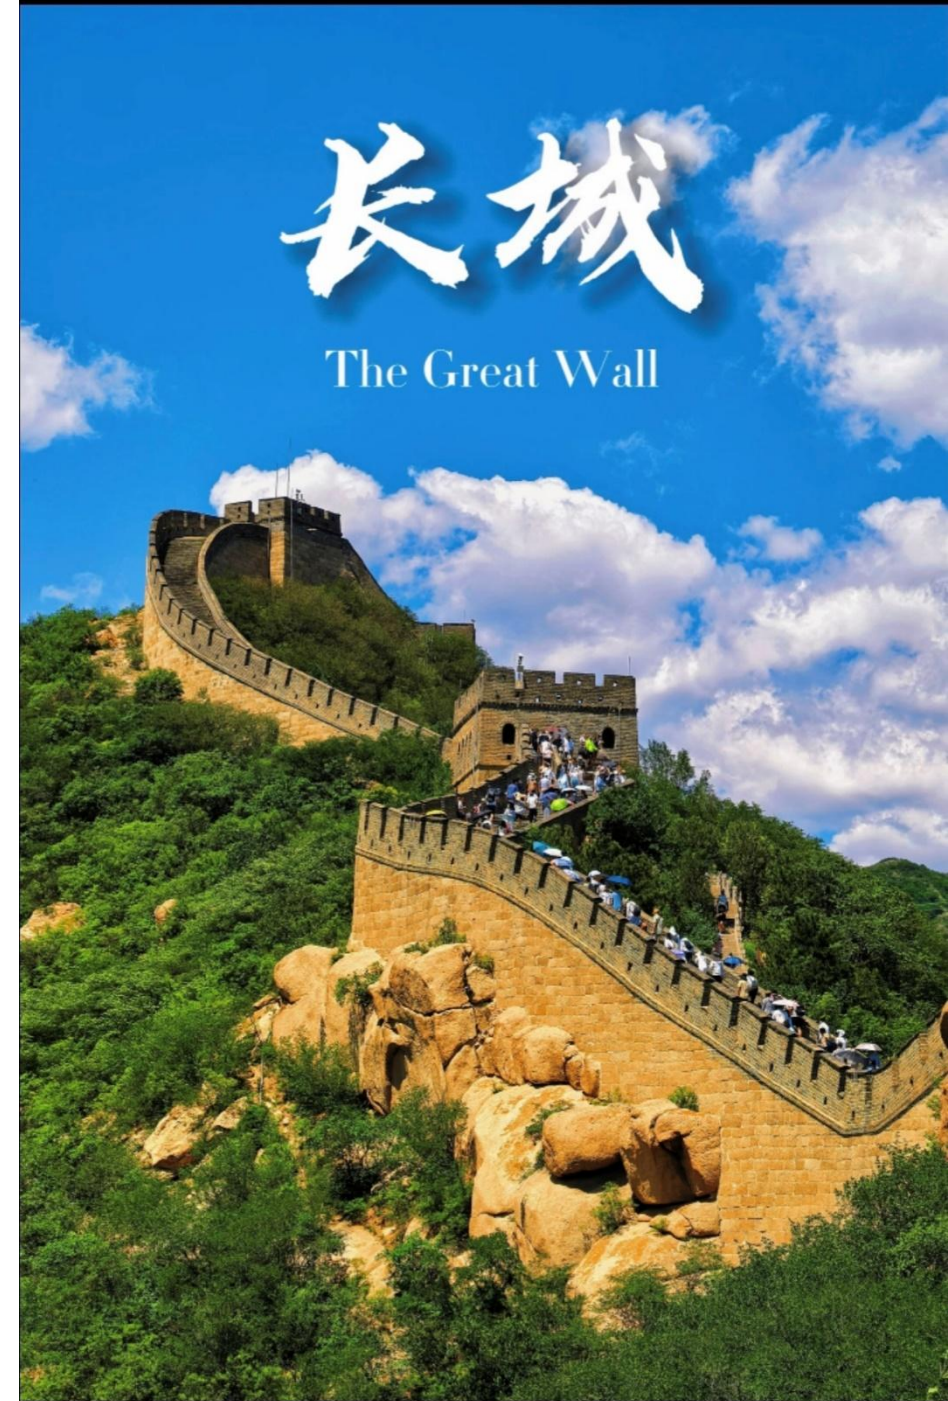

Excursion (Sunday, 13 sept.)

Option B: The Great Wall

▪ Badaling, the most visited section of the Great Wall, lies 70 km northwest of Beijing. Built during the Ming Dynasty, it features well-preserved watchtowers and steep battlements. Its strategic location once guarded the capital. Today, it offers spectacular mountain views and convenient cable car access for millions of tourists annually.

▪ 1h and 30mins from IHEP by bus.

Must-have China Apps (English-friendly)

01 Transportation

Uber of China. For ride-hailing, carpool, taxi. You can choose from cars in different price ranges, from economy to premium

Google Maps for China, Powerful, with built-in 3D maps and multiple navigation options. Also useful for ride-hailing or hotel booking

China's official high-speed rail ticketing app, more trustworthy than other platforms. The downside is that tickets are harder to get

02 Travel Booking

Comprehensive travel service app that offers one-stop services including flight booking, hotel reservations, vacation packages, train tickets, car rentals, and attraction tickets

03 Local Service

If you want to find any nice restaurants, malls, or stores, this app is very helpful. You can search stores by the name or enter the address to find nearby stores. It can even show you all the store names and their locations within a mall

Useful food delivery apps in China with much cheaper delivery fees compared to overseas ones. You can find the English version in WeChat mini-apps

Download as needed from the Apps store to make your trip in China easier!

Tips

- Travel guide (mobile payment, online taxi/car hailing apps, subway, bus etc.):
english.visitbeijing.com.cn

- Both US type and European type (but without ground connection) work in China. Voltage is always 220 V, so US devices need to support 220 V (not 110 V). If your electronic devices are designed for a different voltage, it is crucial to carry a voltage converter or transformer to ensure compatibility.

- To hail a legitimate taxi in Beijing, look for the official yellow taxis with a clear company logo and a lit "Taxi" sign on the roof.

(The DiDi ride-hailing app is generally more convenient than street taxis.)

- Google map cannot work in China, you can download Gaode (AMap) or Baidu Map. Apple map works.
