Status report

- Completing the study of the reference sensor performance stability with time

- Will calculate the time resolution of this sensor

  - For all 2018 test beam campaigns

  - Perform a comparison

  - Method: calculate the difference in time between the sensor and the SiPM and then fit the distribution using a Gaussian function and take the width